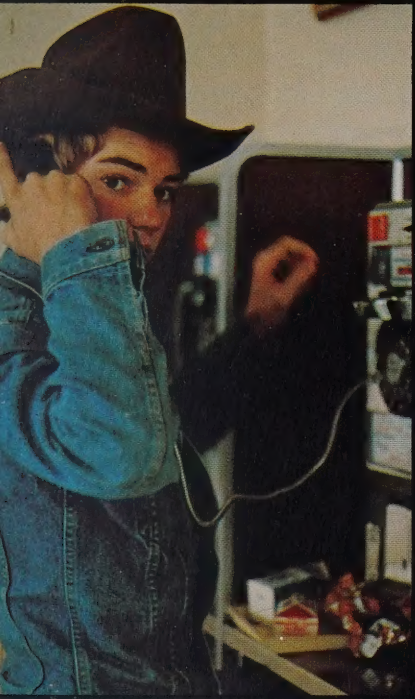
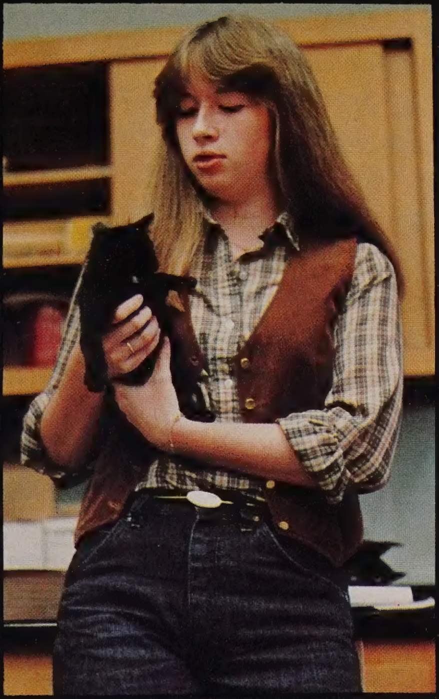
THE TIMES





The year of 1980-1981 has been one of change. Transitions have signaled new outlooks and have enabled each of us to grow in our ideals of ourselves and of our future. The present has become the past, yet each experience at Madison has influenced hopes of further achievement. We are progressing in various directions, and in turn, are acknowledging that while our high school years are times to enjoy, we are assuming greater responsibility. Events of this year have created new demands, and the products of our efforts are the Signs of the Times within Madison.

A CROSSING OF CLASSES

Expressions of every kind can be found at different instances on the faces of Madison students. Our school is one with exuberant personality and we show it accordingly. Madison is composed of a combination of four grade levels; moreover, we achieve on varied scales and possess a combination of interests and talents. The usual competition among the classes is apparent during Homecoming Week and other class projects. The Class of '84, to the dismay of the other classes, won first place with their Homecoming float and shattered the stereotype generally given the Freshmen. The Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors, however, won in other competitions and fund-raisers. This included the magazine drive sponsored by the Juniors, which this year set a new record for Madison. Class spirit is there, but most importantly, school spirit prevails.

ROADS

VIENNA

Different attitudes are reflected through the school day and especially during the time we spend in the company of friends. We strive toward different goals, on different roads, yet there is laughter to be experienced along the way. Vienna does not often find itself host to characters ranging from "The Wizard of Oz" to "The Attack of the Killer Tomatoes." Achieving is one side of Madison; finding pleasure in the things we do is the other.

STOPS ALONG THE WAY

No one can work all year. The best memories we have are of times spent relaxing in conversations, dances, or the antics that are always present during the day. Emotions livened the cafeteria and conveyed our thoughts more accurately than words. Wherever we stopped along the way, we found memories in the making.

What is Homecoming?? fun, work enjoyment, spirit? Sure! Once again, countless hours were spent in preporation for the 1980 Homecoming Parade. The band was excellent, the pom-pons looked great, and the Madisonettes made everyone laugh, while the spectacular floats rolled down Maple Avenue.

The rivalry among the classes was evident again this year. All four classes worked diligently on their floats during the weeks prior to the parade. Remember that hectic Thursday night before the parade? Havoc reigned at all four float sites. The seniors spilled a giant can of red paint, the juniors looked for bubbles, the sophomores were hoping that their sub-marine would dry, and the freshmen were worried about the prospect of their warhawk "flying the coop." To top it off, the power went out on that wild and crazy night. Yes, it was a night to remember, but everyone agrees, it was worth it . . .

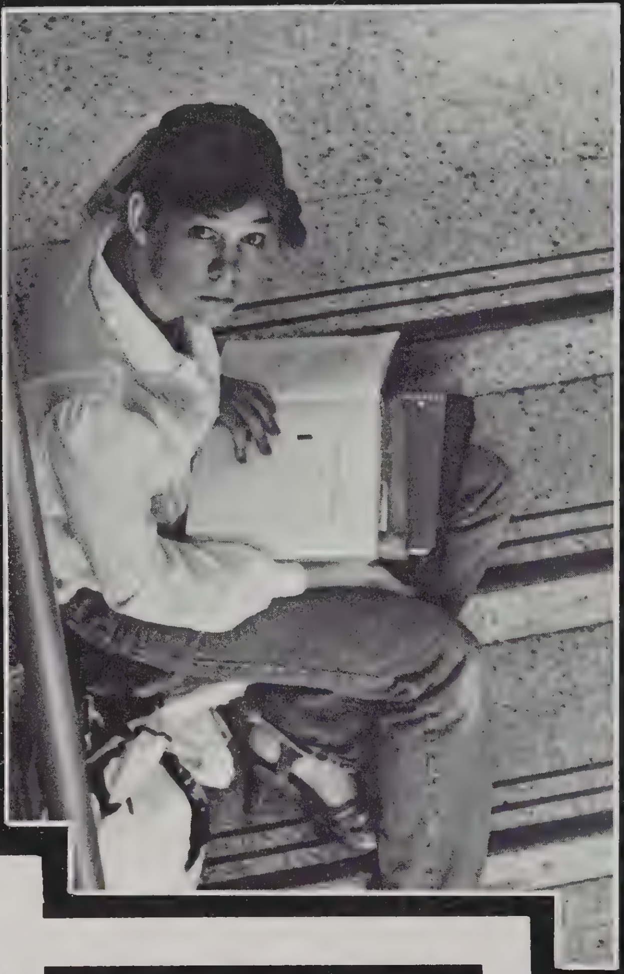
Once again, the Madisonettes and Thespians brought laughter to the "innocent bystanders." Because the theme of this year's parade was MOVIES, both clubs' members dressed up as Cinderellas, Tinmen, Scarecrows, Apes, and Martians. These organizations truly helped to make the event memorable.

As always, Madison's prize winning band gave an outstanding performance. Preceded by the pom-pons, the group painted a colorful picture.

A new innovation was incorporated by the Varsity Cheerleaders. They rolled down Maple Avenue; not on a pick-up truck, as in the past, but on rollerskates!!!! Aside from a few bumps and bruises, the cheerleaders had a terrific time.

That misty October afternoon was anticipated, dreaded, and then, welcomed with enthusiasm by Madison students. When the parade finally occurred, Everyone had a good time. Students and faculty alike got into the act and made the parade one that Vienna will long remember.

ONE WAY!



Mr. Bradford, for the first full year, has supervised Madison as principal. Under his direction, stricter student policies have helped make this year very organized and worthwhile. Renovation of the old school wing was completed with the beginning of September. One change which became a highlight of conversation was the yellow lockers that greeted us on the first day of school. Red, purple, blue, and yellow paints also decorated classrooms throughout the school. The formerly condemned Madison track has been repaired and many other improvements made. These alterations enhanced the qualities of Madison itself and boosted our spirit.

FIRE LANE

Madison has many wild and crazy events. People dress up, ride tricycles, and generally have anything but the normal, expected day. We have the imagination that is a trait of Madison, and no one can say otherwise.

As the freshmen come from Kilmer and Thoreau, they realize that they are given new responsibilities and have to leave their junior high as a memory of the past. As students at Madison, they are given much more freedom than in their previous years. At first it is very confusing. Getting lost isn't anything new but soon they begin to like the new atmosphere much better. They become a real par of the school's environment and begin to get involved in the school itself. Sports, clubs, and activities keep them busy throughou the year. We hope their year here at Madison will be good ones.

SOPHOMORES ON THE DRIVE

atch out people, the class of '83 is itting the road. Yes, they're driving! ne Sophomores take Driver's Ed with Ir. Roth and then they go through ne "Behind the Wheel" course. From nen on it's "Dad, can I borrow the ar?" True freedom at last. At first ne excitement of driving on their wn may not inhibit reckless habits, ut after they realize speeding tickts aren't too cool, the excitement oon wears off and they become nore experienced drivers. So, if ou're a cautious driver or a conerned pedestrian, remember to ield the right of way!

A starry, starry night . . . a soft, lat May wind . . . anticipation, love an music in the air. This scene sets th stage for the Prom of 1981.

The Sheraton National Hotel in Arling ton, Va. is the place the Junior chose to hold this year's Junior-Senio Prom. The band for the event wa "Easy Livin'", and a sound system wa provided so that music would flow continuously. Close to $10,000 wa spent on the prom this year. The mon ey came from the Junior class an the magazine drive. Thanks to th class of "82" this was a night to be r membered!

A last second pass from Mark Miller to Eddie Zimmerman launched the Warhawks on an eight game winning streak. Our winning season can be attributed to quarterback Mark Miller, running back and kicker Calvin Parker, and tight end Pat Polk. The offense was complemented by our sturdy defense. "Futball, you bet."

On to less important matters, such as presidential elections. 80% of our Warhawks favored themselves to be president. 11% would vote for Hugh Hefner and the strongest minor party showings were Mickey Mouse, Ronald Reagan, and Chuck Sell.

Speaking of Coach Sell, his immortal words touched the heart of each of our Warhawks this year.

"Fight team fight,
Fight team fight,
Fight team fight team,
Fight fight fight!" (Rah!)

If you looked at our J.V. football team this year during football camp, you could hardly tell this year's team would amount to anything special. But at the end of the season they boasted a perfect record of ten wins and no losses. This squad looks like good material for next year, especially with standouts like Randy Brockman and Tim Hecht.

The freshman team finished their season right up with the J.V. team with a 10-0 record. They didn't recieve as much attention as they deserved, since they remained undefeated. Bobby Brummer led the offense, which was complemented by their superb defense.

Our Cross Country team started out this year with a bang! Actually it was a pop, or rather, a box of Sugar Pops. While they were training at Nagshead, a civil war erupted over a box of cereal. The end result of this violent struggle was a fourth place finish in the Great Falls District. The team was inspired by the amazing endurance of Coach Campbells verbal ability. Extraordinary efforts were contributed by Rob Burnett and Mike Geary.

If you'd like to win, but think you can't,
It's almost a cinch that you won't.
If you think you'll lose, you're lost;
For out in the world we find
Success begins with a fellow's will;
It's all in the state of mind!
If you think you're outclassed, you are;
You've got to think high to rise
You've got to be sure of yourself
Before you can win the prize

Under the fine coaching of Chuck Campbell the girls Cross Country team completed a fantastic season this year, finishing first in the district, fourth in the region, and third in the state. Three members of the girls team attended Cross Country camp at Nags Head N.C. where they trained daily for the upcoming C.C. season in the fall. During the season Coach Campbell took them to various places including Burke Lake, Lake Accotink, Bluemont Park and U.V.A., where they trained for the state meet. The girls attribute the success of the season to the dedicated coaching, strong individual efforts and comraderie developed through long hours of working together.

Due to the talents of Theresa Mitchell, JoEllen Cameron, Joan Humphries, Dianne Bellomo, Denise Hankins, and the help of coaches Doug Guzman and John D'Elia, the winter track team has had a successful season. Mary Walther, Delores Bolwahnn, and Yoko Mobrey ran at each meet with first rate skill. The underclassmen on the team look very promising and have great potential. Everyday, except weekends, these women worked extremely hard and at times were forced to sacrifice things they would much rather do. Several members of the team competed at Annapolis, running in the mile relay, the 880 relay, the 600 and 1000 yard events. The team competed with metro teams as well as district teams.

With a 6-1 season, the James Madison swim team is really proud of itself. All season the participants prepared for several major meets. In the Great Falls District Meet at Yorktown, they did very well. Robby Dyson and Jenny Wjotal placed in butterfly, Caroline Russo and Craig Engle placed in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle race, and Jenny Wjotal placed in the 200 yard free style race. Also placing were Elinor Belk and Pete Madden in the breast stroke, Robby Dyson in the back stroke, and Stan Smith in the 200 yard individual Medley. The divers in the District Meet also did well; Nancy Engle, Jerri Fiedler, Mary Beth Tinley, Kathy Sherwin, and Pat Lash all placed. Overall, the team came in 2nd in the district competition. In the state competition, the boys placed 4th. Coach Frank DeLuca and Sponsor Norm Chaudet are pleased with the outcome of the team's season.

PORTFOLIO

SIGNS OF SPIRIT

The Portfolio Section is a chronicle of the local, state and national events which occurred throughout the year. This chronicle will help you to remember special events during this school year and put them in context with national happenings.

One of the first and most important events of the school year was the spirit-filled Homecoming. Various events such as the bonfire and Spirit Week spurred the football team to a 14-10 victory over the South Lakes Seahawks.

After all these activities had passed and Homecoming spirit was at its peak, students paraded down Maple Avenue showing spirit through various floats with imaginative signs displaying movie themes. After each class spent weeks making flowers, bending chicken wire and searching for "2 by 4's", the floats were judged on the basis of creativity and originality. The Freshman float won best overall and most original with their float depicting "The Warhawks Flying over the Seahawk's Nest". The Junior float received second place as they encouraged us to "Sink the Seahawks". The Sophomores designed a creative float around the theme "Torpedo the Seahawks", and the Seniors added class to the competition displaying the theme of "The Attack of the Killer Tomatoes" with their sign, "Squash 'Em".

MISS MADISON

This school year started off with the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and the new Miss Madison. The Homecoming Queen was elected from the 3 Senior princesses: Margie Buhl, Madeleine Foley and Debbie Durette. The Junior, Sophomore and Freshman classes elected Kathy Moulthrop, Carolyn Labasco and Holly Nelson as their princesses. Under the lights of the football stadium, Margie Buhl became the 1980 Homecoming Queen.

There were fourteen talented ladies competing for the title of Miss Madison—1981. It was a competition in which the contestants were judged on poise, talent, beauty and intelligence. Ana Parra best displayed these qualities and became the reigning Miss Madison. The runners-up were Kristi Small, Mary Lynne Halfman, Maureen Latimer and Kim Carter.

1. First runner up, Kristi Small, receiving her trophy from Miss Madison 1980, Laurie Macvey. 2. The 1981 Miss Madison contestants. 3. Miss Madison 1981, Ana Parra. 4. The escorts do their thing! 5. Second runner up, Mary Lynne Halfman, and Laurie Macvey. 6. The emcees, Bill Langford and Mary Ann Zelasko.

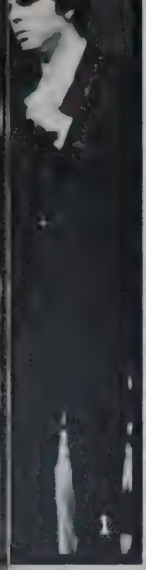
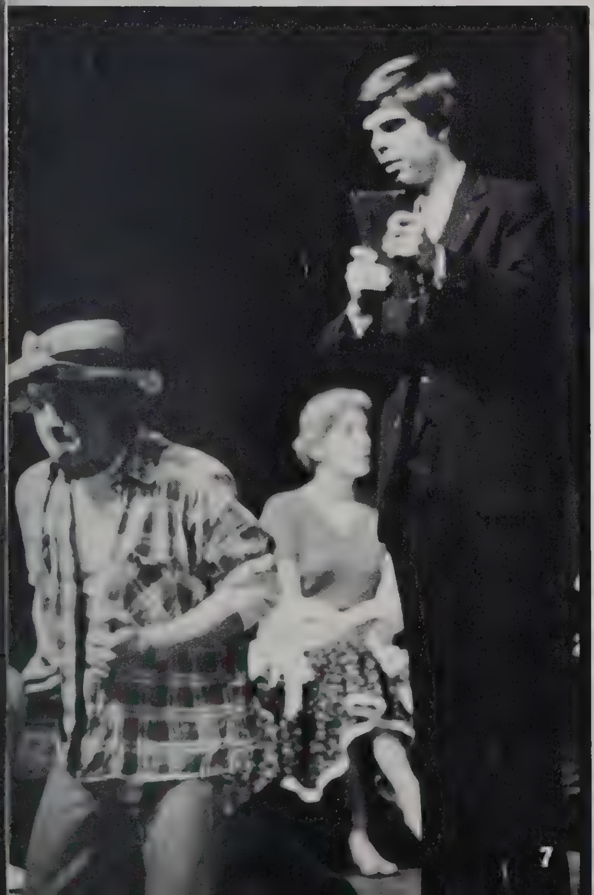
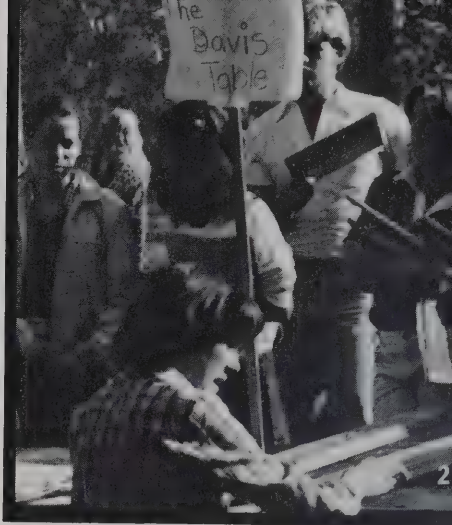
Dark of The Moon, the fall play, is based on a legendary folk ballad originating in the Smokey Mountains of North Carolina. John, the witch boy, falls in love with the beautiful mortal, Barbara Allen, and in order to marry her, he must be changed to a human. To remain human for all time, Barbara must be faithful to John for one year. On the evening before the year is up, she betrays him. Barbara then dies, and John becomes a witch once again.



1. With the help of Preacher Haggler, Hank Gudger and Edna Summey plead for forgiveness.
2. "When the roll is called up yonder" the Congregation of Buck Creek will be there.
3. Mrs. Allen indulges in an afternoon pick-me-up.
4. Preacher Haggler calls on the Lord to save the souls of the sinners on the mourners bench".
5. John and Barbara take a break for lunch.
6. Conjur man and Conjur woman emerge from their cave in the mountains.
7. Uncle Smelicue repents at the urging of Preacher Haggler.
8. Barbara's marriage to John isolates her from the community.
9. The congregation pressures Barbara into her betrayal of John.



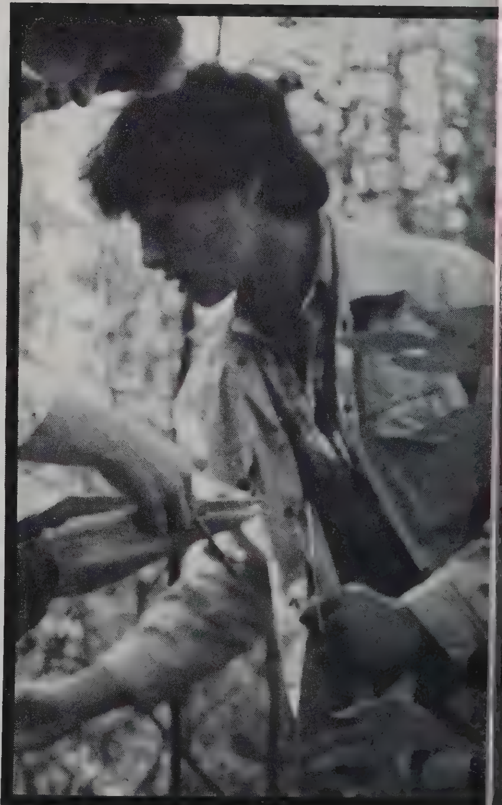
BIOLOGY EXPERIENCE



One of the requirements of Biology is participation in the annual Biology Field Trip. This year 350 students descended upon Lake Fairfax with the purpose of studying the population and habitat of plant and animal life. Upon arrival students received yardsticks, thermometers, and reference folders and proceeded to scan the land for perfect specimens. Students had 4 hours to complete the lab with a partner; any leftover time was used to share information and eat bag lunches while the smell of the teacher's hamburgers pervaded the air. When it was time to leave, everyone handed in their labs and headed for the buses. All in all it was a different experience.

1. A typical Anas platyrhynchos, a member of the subfamily Anatinae swims by casually without noticing the students around him.
2. Students anxiously await the moment when they can receive their rulers and get started on their projects.

3. Denise Przbyla, Laura Head, and Kelly Roman; 3 fine specimens found in the woods in Lake Fairfax. 4. After the hard work is done, all you have to do is lie around and "check" each others' answers. 5. The complexities of the common sassafras plant fascinate a Biology I student. 6. It was a terribly exciting day at Lake Fairfax for all, especially this student!



SENIORS TAKE A POWDER

1. The Senior sideline watches the game in awe. 2. Two determined players confront each other. 3. Senior team members look at the scoreboard in disgust. 4. Mark Miller and Todd Burris cheered the Seniors on with their winning act. 5. Madeleine Foley cheers as a good quarterback sack is executed. 6. On the Junior sidelines, members group to plan their defensive strategy.

On Dec. 6, two powerful forces met to prove who would rule. The Juniors and Seniors lined up on the field, the ball was kicked-off, and the game began. On the sidelines, cheerleaders added a touch of class to the competition. The Senior cheerleaders surprised everyone with their strip-tease act, but despite this inspiration, the Juniors ran over the Seniors by a 12-0 margin. Superior skill won over experience as the Juniors ruled over a disappointed Senior team.

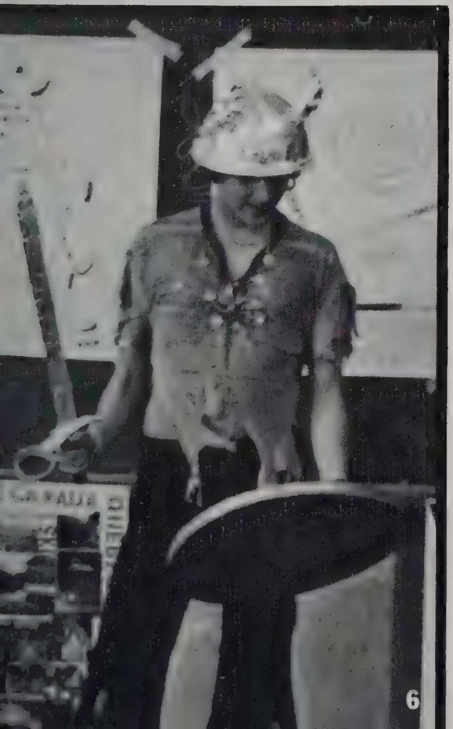
1. It's Holleigh Ingram, another pretty face at Madison.
2. "That article sure is fascinating, who wrote it?"
3. Kim Brockman reflects her happiness with a smile.
4. "Oh no! The paper's due tomorrow, and we're spending our time smiling at a camera."
5. "You touch my car, and I'll break your face."
6. Enough of this stuff, I want to go straight to Paris.



FACES: REFLECTIONS

1. David Lassman, Stanley Zanarotti and John van Stavoren rewrite the Theory of Relativity.
2. David Thurneysen contemplating . . . the universe?
3. Now whoever said Autumn Little was shy?
4. Richard Huffman and Brian Baker indulge in a potentially dangerous contemplation of a school lunch.
5. The invigorating atmosphere of the cafeteria claims 3 more victims: Matt Latimer, Diane Sisley and Tim Vliet.
6. Something or someone at Madison makes Holleigh Ingram laugh.
7. Tim Hecht and Melissa Magnone cheer on the basketball team.
8. Jeff Kushan towers over a timid Sharon LaFever.

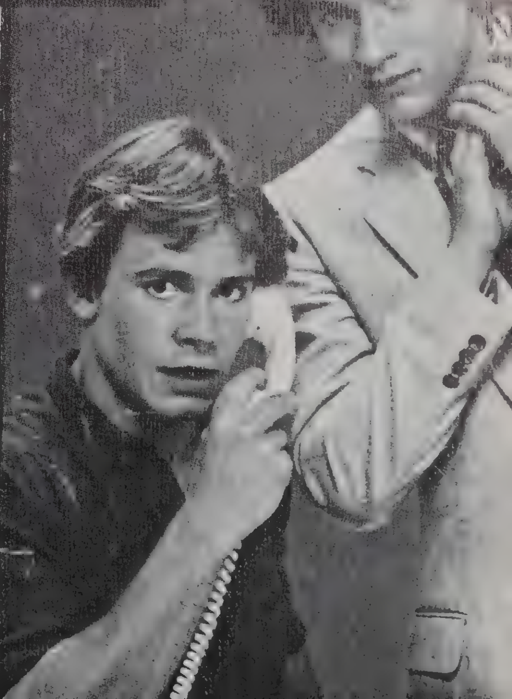
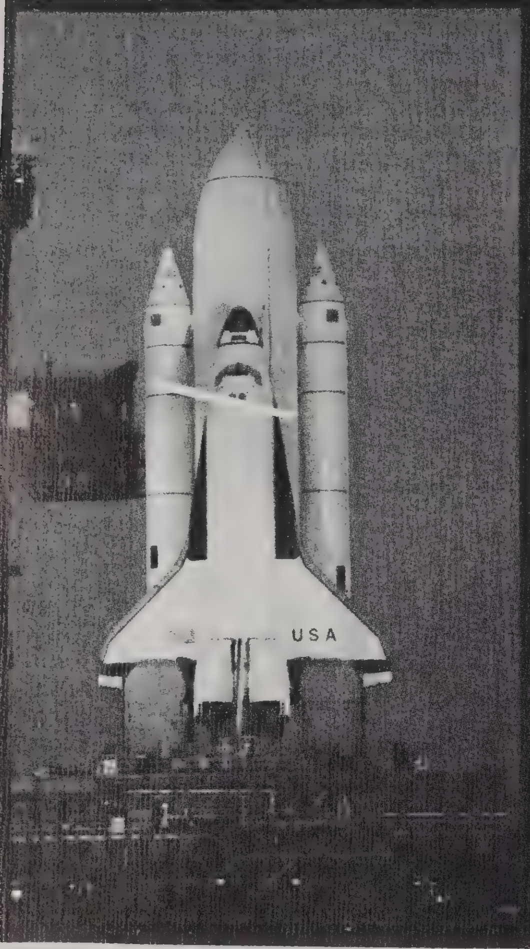
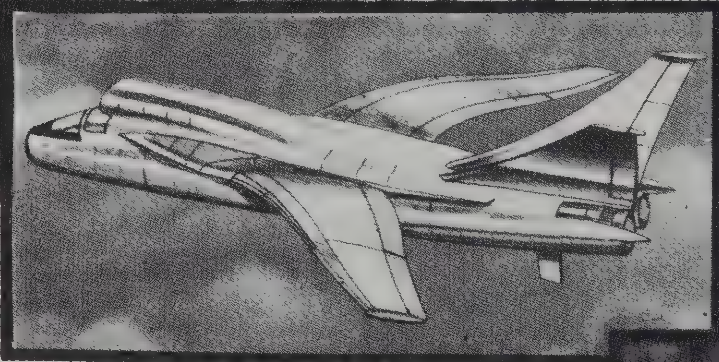
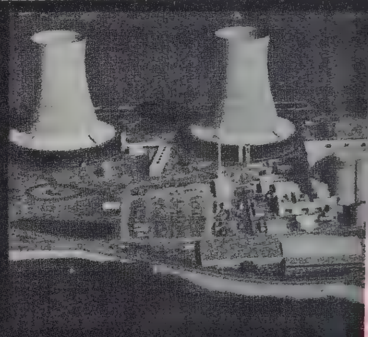
Breaking Away









TECHNOLOGY '80

Technology was big in 1980—giving man new pastimes and new views of his universe. From the simple "gadgetry" of video games to the shuttle that will carry men into the vacuum of space and back again, science and technology are doing more for us than ever before. Using today's science, man knows more about himself, his world, and beyond.

On January 20, 1981 Iran released 52 American hostages after 444 days of captivity. The hostages were taken when the U.S. embassy in Iran was overrun by militant Iranian students demanding the return of the Shah, on Nov. 4 1979. After urging, President Carter authorised a rescue attempt on April 27, 1980. It failed, accomplishing only the deaths of several U.S. commandos. Meanwhile, flags and yellow ribbons abounded, symbols of unity and hope. Anti-American demonstrations in Iran seen on the television were matched by more peaceful, but not less meaningful anti-Iran rallies in the U.S. On November 4, 1980, the one year anniversary of the hostage crisis, America elected a new president, Ronald Reagan, and hoped the crisis would soon be at an end. Finally, on January 20, Inauguration Day, the hostages were released. They were greeted by thousands of people waving flags and yellow ribbons as they made their way in a bus procession from West Point to Washington D.C. They attended a reception at the White House then, several days later, a ticker tape parade in New York. Finally, after more than a year of uncertainty, fear, and deprivation, they were home.

Reagan
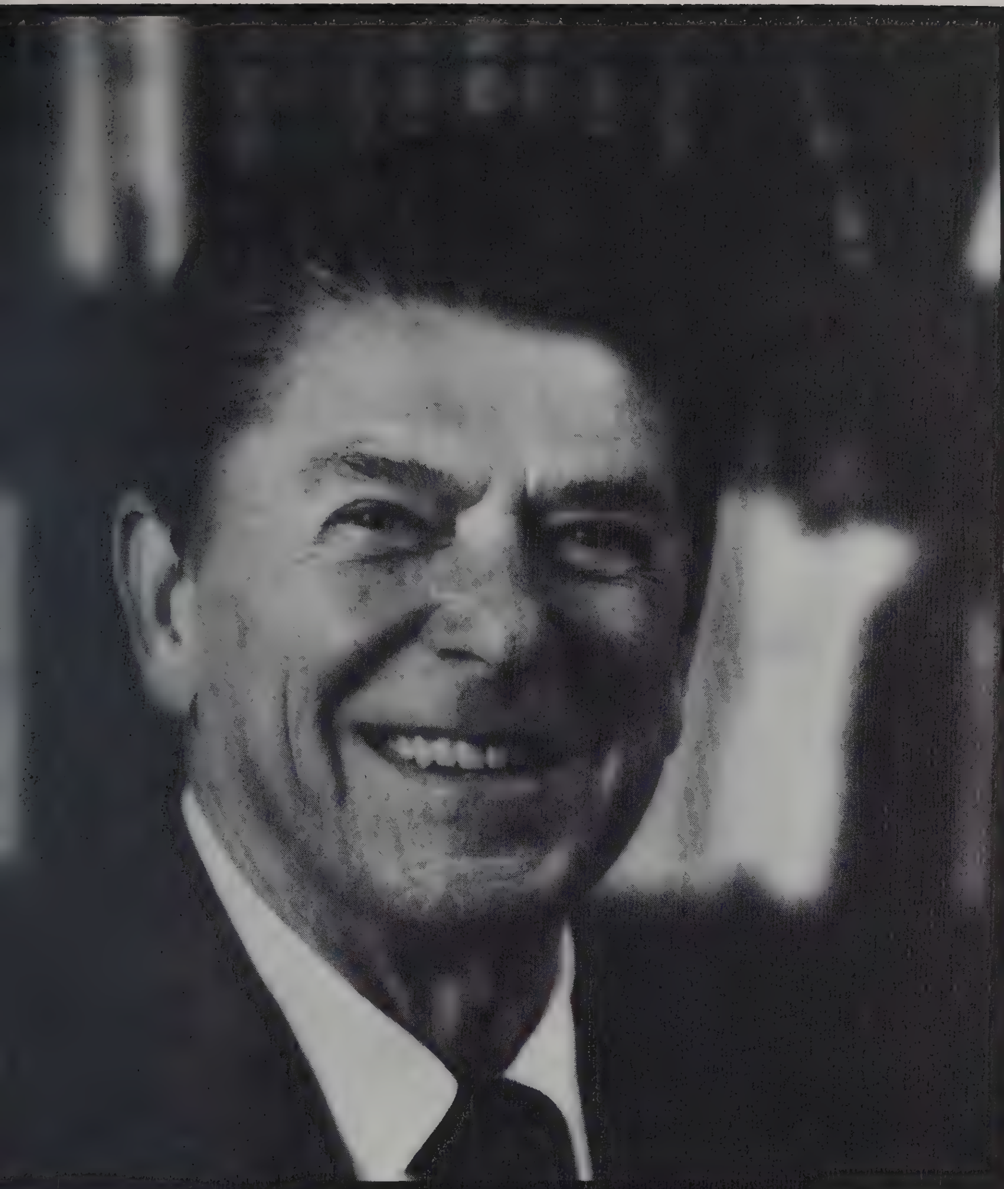
for President



This year's election was indeed a sign of the times. Inflation, troubling foreign affairs, and a general disappointment with incumbent Jimmy Carter, pushed Ronald Reagan into office. Independent John Anderson gave the two major candidates a hard race, but, in the final days of the campaign, he dropped behind. Republican Ronald Reagan won by a landslide. Gov. Reagan's victory was no surprise to Madison students, who had participated in a mock election in which Gov. Reagan won by a comfortable margin.

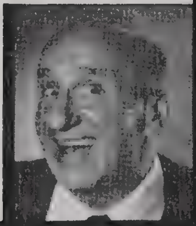
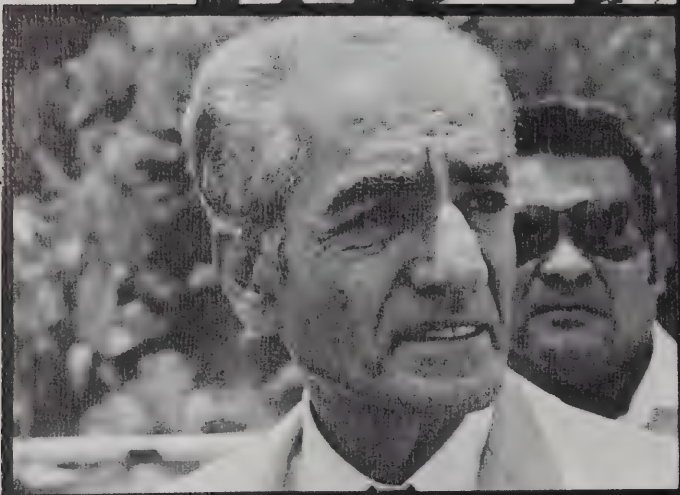
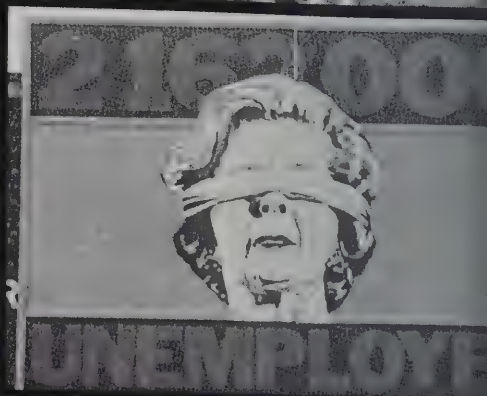
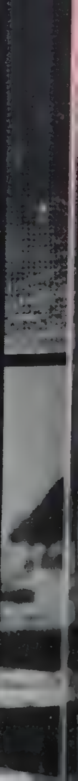
IMAGES '80

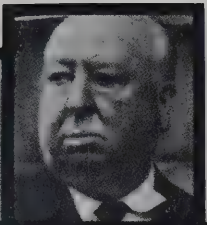








THE WORLD . . .



1980 was a year of upheaval. Mount St. Helen's erupted numerous times, spewing ashes for miles. Iran erupted into revolution, taking 52 Americans hostage in protest of the Shah's regime. The Shah died, but the revolution went on. A war started in San Salvador, and the Polish union workers united in a strike, in defiance of the Russian supported Polish government. Workers in Britain were in trouble, too, as Margret Thatcher's new policies caused phenomenal unemployment. In America we watched the "Changing of the Guard" as Ronald Reagan became President, and as Congressmen were expelled for involvement in ABSCAM. We did our best to welcome the Cambodian "boat people" as we mourned the loss of Jimmy Durante, Alfred Hitchcock, Peter Sellers, and John Lennon. These are only a few of the things of world-wide import that happened in 1980, but they show that 1980 was a year of change, a year of transition into the decade of the 80's.

AND MADISON

The purpose of the Pertfolio section is to preserve throughout the years the national, local, and personal impressions that all contribute to the shaping of our lives. When looking backward, the material in this portion of the yearbook should be especially important to you in the respect that it shows not only school events, but happenings world wide.

LEADERS OF THE PACK

Activities are very important to this school. Thanks to the Student Government Association, which meets daily, such activities as Homecoming, dances, movies, and elections are organized for the enjoyment of the student body. School clubs are also supported by the SGA through the Inter Club Council (ICC).

Class officers, school officers and others elected to the President's cabinet, comprise the members of the SGA. For this reason, these students can better support the student body.

TAR

The Teenage Republicans (TAR), is an active group that explores the structure, functions, and processes of government on both the local and national level. They support candidates by attending burma-shaves, having windshield washes, attending party rallies, and helping the candidates in any other possible way. TAR helps youth to become involved in politics and to better understand how the government runs.

IT'S ACADEMIC

Who was the author of Trinity? The members of the It's Academic team would know the answer to this. This club was designed to compete in the televised program, "It's Academic." This is a show in which high school students compete on teams, comprised of three members each, against each other for money. The students are pick for their fast recall. The group meets often to have practice games which are the basis for an end-of-the year choice for the following year's team. Skills and attendence play an important part in choosing the members of the T.V. team.

SPEAK UP MADISON . . .

ENGLISH TEAMS

The English Teams are for those students who did well on their SAT's. The teams compete with all other county teams. Meets are held in January and February, with the top four teams competing at the county meet. The members have to solve various problems that involve the use of the English language. There are two teams, coposed of five members each, from the senior class.

Squad No.1—James Brennen, Janet Kirby, Liz Utz, Marc Rouleau, and Stasia Wright.
Squad No.2—James Carr, Bobby Davidson, David Evans, Jeff Guerber, and James Welch.

Do these people look capable of winning a meet? Believe it or not, they represent one of the top teams at Madison. The Forensics Team has been ranked among the top teams in the county. For the past two years, it has been the top district team and has reached the Virginia competition in Charlottesville. Each month there is a speech competition in the county of Fairfax. Over the past year, thirty-five trophies have been collected.

The diamond with a wrapped package in the center symbolizing a "job well done" is the seal for the Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA). Each point of the diamond has significance. The four points represent: vocational understanding, leadership development, social awareness, and civic consciousness. DECA activities provide students with opportunities to develop personal skills not available in the classroom or on the job. The club competes in district, state, and national competitive events. They plan to go on a New York marketing field trip and have career seminars in business locations. Also they plan to have an annual employer appreciation luncheon.

Fostering good relationships between the business district of Vienna and our school is the main goal of the Vocational and Industrial Clubs of America (VICA). Planned for this year is an employer-employee dinner and collection of can goods for needy families in the area.

DO IT WITH SERVIC

F.H.A.

The Future Homemakers of America is a club dedicated to performing services in the community and in the school. Their annual projects have traditionally been sponsorship of the Miss Madison Pageant and the Red Cross Bloodmobile. Other activities include adopt-a-grandparent, visiting nursing homes, and visiting the Children's Hospital. We thank the F.H.A. for their efforts this year and we appreciate their hard working sponsor Mrs. Walochick.

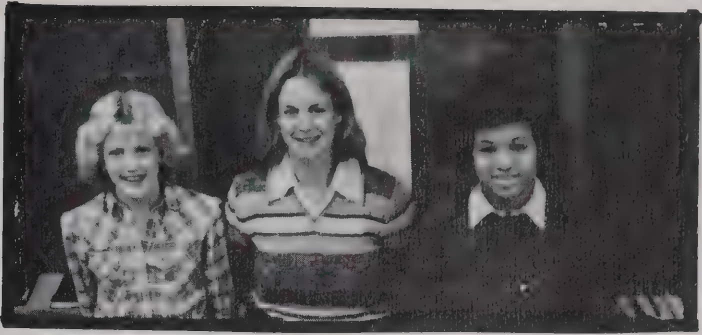
MATH LABBIES



JUNIOR MATH TEAM

Members pictured: Lisa Noblitt, Desiree Ridgell, Jill Willis

The Junior Math Team, an extension of the Senior Math Team, is open to any high school student enrolled in Algebra I, Geometry, Geometry A, and Algebra II. Members meet for monthly competition and scores are sent to a central location which rands participating high schools. Club's sponsor is Mrs. Amoroso.

Math Lab Aides are students who give up a class period a day to work as a student assistant. They perform a valuable experience helping both students and students.

LATIN

The Latin Club, one of the most active clubs this year, is comprised of 106 students. The great success of the club is due to the time and effort that Miss Sharrard, the sponsor, devotes to it. Among the activities planned this year are attending the state convention in Roanoke, the Latin Bowls, trips involving Roman culture, and a Latin banquet at the end of the year.

FRENCH

The French Club is designed to enrich the knowledge of the French culture. To achieve this, the club goes to movies, has dinners, hears speakers, visits museums, and prepares meals. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Heimovitz, the club has grown. This is the club to join if you want to learn more about the French people.

AFS

American Field Service (AFS) offers it's members a chance to meet people from other places. Students from foreign countries come and stay with host families usually for a full school year. This year's AFS students are Marten Bergstrom from Sweden, Lutz Bestgen from Germany, and Marijke Druif from The Netherlands. The club welcomes anyone interested in meeting the students, thinking of going abroad, or just going on weekend exchanges with other schools.

SPANISH

The Spanish club, which isn't just for those who take Spanish, lets people experience and better understand the Spanish way of life. With the help of Mrs. Ingham and Mrs. Linza, the sponsors, the club has museum trips, guest speakers, and fiestas among other activities such as their monthly meetings.

“THE MAIN THING ABOUT MADISONETTES IS PEOPLE HELPING PEOPLE”

For the homecoming parade, Mary Hallahan and Denise Przybyla dress like clowns

Helping others is something many people want to do, but they do not know how to begin. The Madisonettes is a club that girls can join to help serve the school and the community. Every year the Madisonettes have participated in such activities as canned food drives, collecting for UNICEF, Christman carolling, and Freshmen orientation.

HELPING TO SERVE ALL

The Saftey Council promotes school and community saftey by holding a poster contest, bike rodeo, and a road rally where drivers drive a course under a time limit without speeding and with safe driving habits. Saftey week is an annual event for the school. Also, on Saturday, November 15, the officers attended a State Conference in Stauton Virginia where they discussed saftey habits.

Being a Christian does not mean just going to church or believing in God. It is sharing with others the love that Jesus Christ gave us all. Those of us who have decided to receive the gift are trying to show everyone else that it is for everyone, and it is, free! . . . "who so ever believeth in Him, shall not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16.

The purpose of the Bible Club is to proclaim the good news that God is real and He loves us. He wants us to grow to be all that we can be for the Lord Jesus Christ.

A madrigal is a pastoral song i which two or more voices sing separate melodies to a simple text. I usually has no instrumental accompaniment.

Madison's Madrigals sing songs by sixteenth century Spanish composers and more. It's composed o fourteen talented students. They performed through the Holidays a places like Vienna Chamber o Commerce, Morman Visitors Center, and the Vienna-Oakton Women's Club. Each madrigal is also a member of Concert Choir.

Give us an S, give us a P, give us an I, give us a R, give us an I, give us a T. S-P-I-R-I-T . . . give us the Pom-Pon Squad and watch the Warhawks' wings soar! The Pom-Pon Squad promotes spirit at all games and performs during half times. They attended training camp and compete for trophies in competitions with other schools who have pom-pon squads. We are proud of the scores of the Madison Pom-Pons. Their performances for '80- '81 have been outstanding!

After a summer of hard work and practice, the Madison Flag Corps perfected a difficult routine to enhance the band's performance. Their busy season included competitions in Culpepper and Alexandria, the many half-time shows at the football games and the Halloween and Home-Coming Parades. The hard work of these gals is unsurpassed. Their outstanding colorful performances with the band has brought an extra dimension of spirit to Madison!

This is the first year that James Madison's band has had a rifle line! Its eight members began practicing with the band in the second week of August. Despite difficulties in obtaining equipment and an instructor, arranging a field show, in addition to injuries sustained while working with the heavy rifles, this group marched in the opening football game. By the end of the season they not only performed their own drill, but also mastered part of the flag show. We salute this group and thank them for their great performances throughout the year. This newest addition to Madison's showmanship is sure to be a continued success. Congratulations to the pioneers of the Rifle Line and their instructor Al Jenson!

The Marching Band, which is made up of the Concert and Symphonic bands, placed a close second at the Alexandria Band Festival and performed exhibition at the Culpepper Band Festival. The high point of this season was performing at a festival at Disneyworld in Florida; all this was the reward for lots of practice and hard work at band camp, in class, and after school.

The 1980-81 JMHS Marching Band

On December 16th, the Symphonic Band boarded planes for the windy city of Chicago and for a place among the top five bands in the country. The band appeared at the Midwest Band and Orchestra Clinic, in which only five high school bands are chosen from the approximately 30,000 bands who apply. According to Mr. Bianchi, getting invited to this clinic "automatically puts you in the upper percentage of the really elite high school bands."

When the county refused to aid in the costs of the trip, Zippers came to the rescue by offering "band bucks." For every band buck redeemed, they gave a dollar to a bad fund, chich was divided among James Madison and Fort Hunt, the other area school invited to this clinic. In all, the promotion raised 15,000 dollars, which helped defray the costs to the members by approximately one-third.

At the clinic, the band met the two guest conductors, Lt. Col. John R. Bourgeois, US Marine Band, and Dr. Fredrick Fennell, Professor Emeritus, at the University of Miami. The moderator, Tom Gauger of WMAL radio, kept Washingtonians informed of the Bands' activities with broadcasts at various times of the day.

Upon their return on December 19th, the members, riding in decorated buses, were met by a police escort at the town line. The following Sunday, a reception was held with many local dignitaries, including Jack Herrity, alumni, and the very proud parents, present. Good work Band!

The Madison Sinfonietta performed in an international string competition May 8—11. In order to participate, each student had to earn $150. Fund raisers to earn the money included raffle ticket sales, newspaper drives, candy sales, aluminum can drives, placemat sales, and public performances. Throughout the year, the orchestra performed three concerts and accompanied the Miss Madison Pageant.

PRESENTING . . . THE ARTS OF MADISON

THESPIANS

Thespians is a drama honor society that has troupes all over the world. The purpose of this group is to raise the standard of excellence in drama.

It is not easy to become a member of the Thespians. A student must work a minimum of one hundred hours participating either on stage or behind the scenes in a play production or in a combination of play productions. At the end of the year, a Thespian Banquet is held, at which awards are given for Best Actor and Actress, Best Director, Best Chairperson, Best Backstage worker, and the most important and highest honor, Best Thespian. The motto for this group of fine young actors is: "Act well your part; there in all the honor lies."

ART CLUB

Hey all you talented people! The art club was made just for you. For all those students that enjoy doing their own thing with art but don't or can't be in an art class, this is your chance. The art club meets after school to just work on what they do best. The art club does the seasonal bulletin board, visits the torpedo factory and museums, have an annual popcorn sale, and may do a mural this year. If art is your thing, then the art club is for you!

The National Honor Society is just that; a national organization. Juniors and Seniors who demonstrate the necessary qualities and who have the required grade point average are eligible to become members. The purpose of N.H.S., is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, promote the rendering of service and leadership, and to develop character. To become a member, a student must have a 3.5 grade point average along with the demonstration of these qualities. To help other students in the school, the N.H.S. provides a free tutoring service.

This year the "50's Day" was out — PUNK was in!

Punk Rock Day was only one of the dress up days during "Spirit Week". Those who dared to embarrass themselves, came to school clad in clashing hot pinks, bright oranges, tight pants, black leather jackets, and gaudy jewelry. The smeared and smudged on make-up was a necessity also for those who were dressed up. The best addition, though, was the attempt at green and pink hair. Whoever said "The 50's would live forever"?

As usual, the underclass girls and boys were scurrying from one house to the next on Halloween night this year. The Seniors had better plans though. The Madison vs. McLean game was one of several attractions that weekend, but the most important event was the SAT test the following morning. The dreaded SAT's delayed the infamous Senior Halloween party until Saturday night. But on Saturday night, Halloween really rocked out at Sarah Briggs' house. Being three days until the elections, the unforgettable Richard M. Nixon and Spiro Agnew came to begin their campaign. As the people rolled in, the costumes kept improving. Dolly Parton kept things going, as the "cop" kept things under control. Witchie-poo was a regular, while the Christmas tree, the nun, Klinger, and the dice were new additions. What a night! Leave it to the Seniors for the best!

The Fall performance of the Choir went very well. The choir practiced for many weeks and then one night, they revealed their excellent talent. Here some of the sopranos are practicing selected songs from West Side Story.

Ski anyone!? Around here everyone skis. As soon as the first flakes fall in Vienna, all the "ski bums" get ready to hit the slopes. At Seven Springs, Pennsylvania and also in Canada, students enjoy skiing the slopes, and feeling the cool, brisk air blowing across their faces as hey whip down the mountianside—ust like the feeling you get when you eat a York Peppermint Pattie. Mints aren't popular with everyone though, many people bring their own refreshments and enjoy the warm company in the evening.

The leaders of the "ski bum" pack are Mr. Reilly and Mr. Cooke. If you're not a member of the Vienna Snow Club, you should be.

September 6, 1977 was the day; 7:45 was the hour; the bell rang to begin school, but most of us were still trying to figure out where we were, where we were supposed to go, and what we were supposed to do. After much confusion, sweat, and frustration, we eventually found our way to class. As the day progressed, we found some hidden courage to ask for help. We were told over and over again to just take the elevator to the third floor, and we would find our classroom next to the swimmingpool. Being trusting (naive and gullible), we would gratefully express our thanks and walk in the direction we were told with a new sense of courage. Our trust faded, when we couldn't find an elevator by the boy's gym. Soon it became a fact and a hard learned lesson, NOT to ask for help from anybody. It became embarrassing to have to wander through the halls. No matter how hard we tried, everyone could tell we were lost, and therefore, we were easily recognized as FRESHMEN.

Just when we began to feel good about ourselves, someone would call us a "frosh", or a "bop", or a "baby warhawk", and then we felt like babes in the crowd again. In fact, we were. We were the Baby Warhawks. We eventually became proud of it. We pulled together with the other Baby Warhawks and strengthened our force. We were spirited and proud; we were Baby Warhawks!

School ended in June and there we were, Sophomores, September 1978. We were no longer Baby Warhawks, we were no longer "frosh" or "bops". We were one of the in-between classes that we thought had no specific significance. We soon found that not to be so. Most of us had a birthday sometime during that year, and we became 16 years old. The DMV got a visit, and the insurance companies raised their rates. The sophomores were controlling the wheels. Look out Interstate 81, here we come, . . . And "81", here we are!

After graduation, we will all travel on several roads. Many will travel to Ocean City, where our class will celebrate the ending of our high school days and the beginning of our anticipated future. When our week at the beach comes to an end, we will separate and depart, carrying memories with us.

From there, we will travel on the highways of life. May your road take you toward your destiny, and when you reach it, explore, and expand, and succeed. The roads will guide you to new places, new people, and new lives. When the day and hour requests you to backtrack those roads and footholes, may we come together again in this place and celebrate our reunion. Old friends and old faces, good memories, fun, and laughter will live again as an old spirit is rekindled. We may not look the same—there may be a few pot-bellies, thinning hair, baggie wrinkles, and gray temples, but inside and underneath it all, we're still the same. We won't dwell on the past, because our high school and college days will be only a fond memory in our minds and hearts, but we will look forward to tomorrow and to the time when the roads will guide us back together once more to celebrate for the present and future.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

It's finally over!! It seems as if the days would never end for the class of '81. However, our exceptional leaders, Pres. Mike Greiner, V.P. Frank Graviano, Sec. Madeleine Foley, and Tres. Mike Drapeau, made this final year all the better. This past summer our senior officers and a few recruits painted a mighty "81" on the football bleachers. During the football seasons they organized the building of our class float, The Killer Tomato. Our officers sold us our invaluable senior privilege cards, better known as cut cards. The officers' plans include senior picnics and a Battle of the Bands. Thanks Mike, Frank, Madeleine, and Mike for your dedicated service throughout the year.

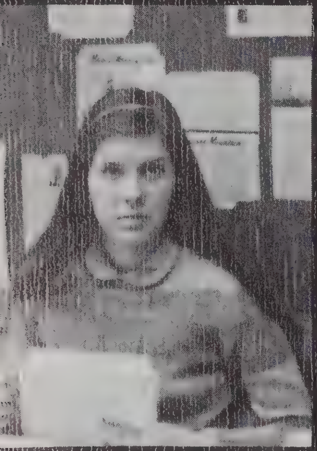
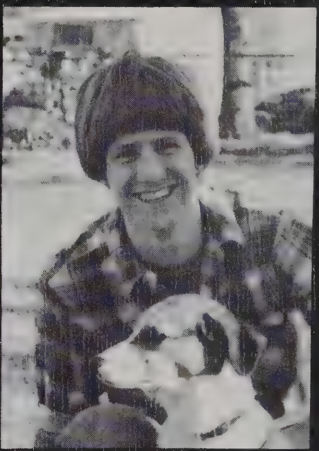
EXPRESSION





We never seem to be at a loss for expressiveness. Madison is full of students who like to enjoy classes and school-related activities by adding life to them, and that is always apparent. During this entire year, we have brought the characteristic style of victory into these halls. Along with the faculty, we have become part of the mania of spirit ribbons, pep rallies, and class competitions. When we leave this school, the trademarks of the mighty Warhawks will be firmly rooted with us and others who know our outspoken personality.

As the year of 1981 ends, we have grown closer to friends and enjoyed the many opportunities Madison offers. In a school of roughly two thousand students, many things happen that we want to remember. We have tried to capture them in the Montpelier. The locker decorations, clubs, and dances that are key elements of high school life received most of our attention while few events of the world mattered. Yet, the election of a new president, the flight of Voyager II, and especially the holding of 52 American hostages made us realize both challenges and responsibilities are present. We are becoming an active part of a changing world, and when we leave for different colleges and jobs, we will have a recollection to look back on, thinking of "all the good times," and smile.

Dear Yearbook Staff,

The hours spent on the yearbook this year have been "interesting". As deadlines rolled around, the section editors could be seen intimidating their staff members with dire threats and deadly glances. "Watch it, we saw that look." The co-editors, on the other hand, were always calm, cool, collected, and congenial. The list goes on . . . What, you don't agree? Then YOUR DEADLINE IS TOMORROW!

Remember how the staff members had to coax the Art Staff and bribe the photographers? Eventually, the Art Staff produced their masterpieces, and the photographers (who had to be bound, gagged, and dragged to the site) took their pictures.

It is all over now. The hours have been long and hard, and at times we've wondered why we were so dedicated to our work. When we see the excited faces on the day the book comes out, all the #+@ we've been through to put the book together, Is somehow put aside. Even if we aren't thanked individually for a job well done, each one of the staff members will always remember and will always be proud of our accomplishment.

Thank you and congratulations to everyone!

Special Thanks to:

Mr. H. P. Shaffer, Jr.—advisor
Mr. Sid Patterson—ICP representative
Mr. George Deal— studio photographer and film developer
Mrs. Micky Smith— Madison's computer programmer
Mr. Norman Bradford—principal and this year's Senior class for purchasing eight extra pages for their section. These pages are all yours!!

All of the persons on this page have contributed to the assembly of this yearbook. Their help in assisting staff members has enabled us to add many new and original aspects to our coverage of the 1980-1981 school year. We greatly appreciate the cooperation we have received.

A SIGN OF A NEW BEGINNING

As we leave the halls of Madison, Growing and Striving to reach our future goals, we will reflect back on the times we have spent with those who have shared this special part of our lives. Although names may fade away, the memories and emotions of past experiences will remein vived in our hearts. Down the hall our memories prevail: the coming of the end, and the beginning of the new.
